15 November 2018

Kentucky Update

Indago has completed the initial phase of the squeeze operation on the Weldon Young #1A well at its 100% owned heavy oil project in Kentucky.

Multi-flow and carrier fluids have been squeezed into the formation and as planned the well will be shut in for up to seven days to allow Multi-flow to soak into the reservoir. After this period Indago will conduct a series of flow tests to determine if Multi-flow has successfully allowed oil to flow into the well bore for pumping to surface

Further updates will be released when results come to hand.
